Introduction

Tinkerer is “one who enjoys experimenting and trying out different ideas”. However, this activity needs to be focused and should have purpose, so as to ensure success in generating new ideas and developing solutions. And through the process of exploration and invention lies the potential for innovation. For this to happen, one should know the operations of all the machines/instruments related to prototyping, hence this session...

Workshop includes

- Workshop includes tea/coffee break
- Membership in mailing list of all participants.
- Demonstrations of handling and operating of equipments in Tinkering Lab
- Tour of the Tinkering Lab and other labs and facilities at Venture Center
- Participation Certificate

Workshop does not provide

- No ranking or scoring shall be provided. Idea is to encourage analytical and operating skills for using prototyping equipments.
- Lunch is not planned under this workshop
